Verse 3

Waiting a lifetime, for life to begin. Kept doing nothing, I thought I would win.
Waiting to see what fate had in store, I waited I waited, I waited some more.

Realising, realising, that I've left it too long. I'm my own master, I've read fate all wrong.
Now that it's so late, well what can I do? I look to my future, but my future looks blue.
